Acts 14:8-20; The Acts of the Apostles, pp. 177-185

Do you remember how you felt on your first day at school? Did you feel strange going into a new place? Did you know many people? How do you think Paul and Barnabas might have felt about going to a strange town where they didn't know anyone?

Paul and Barnabas stopped to rest by the roadside. They looked at the city before them. "Most of the people of Lystra don't know anything at all about the God of heaven," Paul sighed.

"Not for long!" Barnabas replied with a smile.

Right there beside the road, the two apostles prayed. "Show us, Lord, how to let the people of Lystra know the good news about Jesus!"

They walked on and soon entered the city. The two friends began to talk to people. Soon several of the townspeople had gathered. "Look around us!" Paul said to the crowd. "All of the beautiful things you see are here because of the God of heaven. He made the mountains, the trees, the flowers!"

Little by little, day after day, Paul and Barnabas shared the story of Jesus. One day Paul told how Jesus loved to heal people. As he spoke, he noticed a man who had never been able to walk. "Look at him, Jesus!" Paul silently prayed. "He believes in You! You can make him well!" Then Paul said to the man, "Stand up on your feet." And the man jumped up and walked!

"Amazing! Unbelievable!" people began to shout. "How can this be?"

Someone in the crowd shouted, "The gods have come down to visit us!" Others agreed. They believed that their gods sometimes came to help them in miraculous ways. After seeing the lame man healed, they were sure that Paul and Barnabas were gods, too.

The people became so excited. They shouted, "Let's have a celebration! We can offer sacrifices to these gods and give them gifts!"

Paul and Barnabas had gone to find a place to rest. They had no idea of the plans that were being made! Before long, the sounds of the excited crowd reached them. “This can’t happen,” they said.

Paul and Barnabas moved among the people. “No, no,” they said. “You don’t understand! We’re people just like you! We’ve come to tell you the good news about the real God, the LIVING God!” But the people were determined to worship Paul and Barnabas.

About that time, some Jews heard about the excitement. They came to see it for themselves. These men wanted to stop the work of Paul and Barnabas.

They saw that the townspeople were upset because Paul and Barnabas had stopped their celebration. So it wasn’t hard to make them turn against God’s men!

Very quickly, the same people who had wanted to worship the apostles, now wanted to kill them! In fact, they stoned Paul and dragged him out of the city, thinking he was dead. The Christian believers of Lystra sadly gathered around Paul. He was bruised and bleeding, but he lifted his head and stood up! They helped him back to the city where they could care for him. But Paul and Barnabas decided to leave that place. “We will travel to Derbe for a little while. But we will come back soon to encourage you and help you!”

During worship talk with your family about what you could do for these people. What does Jesus say about helping others? Read together Matthew 25:40. Tell what this verse means.

DO Try to make up a tune for your memory verse. Sing it together. Then ask Jesus to help you ease someone's burden today.

The people in Lystra didn't worship the true God. They worshipped Jupiter.
